

Libly Story Quest Epilogue – May the Source Be With You!

The entire group travels through the Highway and, just as they said before, it is almost as comfortable as staying at home. When you reach the end of the tunnel, you use one of the fireworks that Ashiur gave you and it works perfectly. Now it is just a short walk to the Source.

You meet up with Lune and she says, “You arrived just in time, we ran out of food yesterday morning. We’ve been trying to find food around here, but this mountain is bare. Everyone is getting hungry and I was starting to fear that we might have to leave these people trapped.” You use the second of the fireworks and blow open the rocks blocking the people in. Finally free, a few of them jump out and begin to dance, while others barely crawl out, as they are quite weak. They are all happy to be safe and your friends help carry the weaker ones back home through the Highway.

Lune helps you place the last one at the Source and when it explodes, the water comes barreling out and almost sweeps the two of you down into the canyon with it. The mist alone soaks you from head to toe; it feels very nice, albeit a bit chilly...

You join Lune and the others back at their village and, as promised, Rastalia puts on a gorgeous spectacle of flaming fireworks. The colors, rhythm, and patterns are each perfectly placed. It doesn’t last too long, maybe fifteen minutes, but it is breathtaking.

The next day you decide it’s time to leave and head back to the Libly. The journey back is long and difficult, but the moment you see Cirika and her family, you understand that it was all worth it.

They are very happy and tell you all about the brilliance of seeing the waterfall running again. “It was so strong that it just shot out like a water hose for a while,” says Yoru. “Yeah, it was like, whooooooooosshhh,” says Kandein as he explains the motions with his hands. Then Cirika jumps in and says, “It was beautiful. There were many, many rainbows after that. They have disappeared now that the flow is back to normal, but I will never forget that moment when the water appeared again. Thank you so much for everything.”

Congratulations, learners! You have just finished the Libly Story Quest. It was a long and arduous journey, but you have succeeded with flying colors! Give yourselves a pat on the back.

As a result of your actions, Cirika and the rest of the Libly have decided to allow 2 of your friends and family to join them in Linnaeus Lake, and Ashiur said he would allow 1 of them to live in his village deep in the mountains! You’ve helped saved 3 more of your friends and family!

You have acquired 300 Stars from your ordeal as well as the “May the Source Be With You!” Reputation.
